Husband Of Local Woman 'Liberates' French Village

A story of interest to Newmarket people appeared in the Toronto Star on Saturday. It concerns Capt. George Charlton, whose wife, the former Velma Stark, and three children are living in Newmarket for the duration. Mrs. Charlton's father is George Stark.

Frederick Griffin, the Star correspondent, tells how Capt. Charlton and his driver, Cpl. Robert MacPherson, liberated Thiembronne in France. Capt. Charlton's task with Canadian war correspondents is to reconnoitre new sites for their camps. The correspondents were camped in a chateau without windows below Abbeville and Capt. Charlton and his driver set out to find a camp near St. Omer. To get to this place they had to sidestep several Germans still not mopped up in the woods. They reached the village of Fauquem Bourges and contacted the C.F.I. who told them about a suitable house near Thiembronne.

Capt. Charlton and Cpl. MacPherson went to this little village and were greeted by the 200 inhabitants headed by the village priest who told them "you are the first Allied soldiers to come to Thiembronne. You are our liberators."

The priest conducted a special thanksgiving service in their honor that evening. Following the service a grand procession led by the priest and mayor took the two Canadians all over the village and in the course of it they had to visit practically every home anxious to show them hospitality. At nightfall they were given a nice room in which to sleep with the luxury of beds and white sheets. They were given the only cake of soap in the house to wash with.

In the morning the Canadians went back to the former camp of the correspondents and took them up to Thiembronne from which place Frederick Griffin wrote the story.

M.O.H. Urges Parents To Protect Children Through Toxoiding

By DR. J. H. WESLEY, M.O.H.
Preventing sickness is better than curing it. In other words, toxoiding is a handy way of keeping out of trouble, and it is real trouble when all the children in the family are taken down with some communicable disease, requiring special care from the anxious mother, the calling in of the doctor as well as a nurse, especially when it all might have been prevented.

If there had been no first case in that outbreak of scarlet fever or measles, there would have been no epidemic of several hundred cases, and the only way to prevent an epidemic is to find the first case and keep all the others from coming in contact with it until the necessary time of quarantine has expired.

Some say let the children have the communicable diseases when it is prevalent, because they will take it anyway. Fortunately very few sensible people take this view today and prefer to do their part to eradicate all communicable diseases from the community, especially those that can be prevented by toxoiding.

The toxoiding of children and older people against diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever has been very successful and the more universally the toxoiding can be pushed, the nearer we can come to banishing these diseases completely. In fact there are large cities at the present time that run through a whole year without having a single case of diphtheria recorded. It must be at least 25 years since there has been a single case of diphtheria in town, and yet we have to keep our younger part of the population protected from the contagion that may be brought here from other places throughout the length and breadth of Canada. These communicable diseases are so much more common among soldier camps. What is more common than a soldier getting a two weeks furlough after a sickness? He may easily carry the germs of a recent attack of the dreaded diphtheria and give it to some of his friends at home.

What is meant by toxoiding? The poisonous or injurious substance of a certain disease, say scarlet fever, is destroyed by (Page 7, Col. 1)

CLINIC IN MOUNT ALBERT
A toxoid clinic for diphtheria for all children in East Gwillimbury will be held at Dr. G. W. E. Macpherson's office, Mount Albert, on Monday at 9:30 a.m.

SCHOOL BOARDS RESUME WORK

Miss H. Pennock, supervisor of public health nursing, told the public school board on Monday evening that Newmarket's new public health nurse, Miss Jessie Smith would spend one fifth of her time in the schools, that being the approximate proportion of the population that is in school. It was the board's first meeting of the 1944-45 term. Mrs. C. J. R. Edwards was in the chair.

"The only health work to be done in the school room by the nurse is a rapid inspection after holidays to prevent the spread of communicable diseases," said Miss Pennock. "Daily inspections are, of course, made by the teachers. The rest of the nurse's work will be done in the health room."

The board consented to have the new manual training classes sharpened and the sewing machines re-conditioned. Requisitions will be placed with the W.P.T.B. for retort sets for cooking classes.

Final arrangements were made to permit up to ten pupils from the separate school to attend domestic science and manual training classes at a pro rata cost.

On the advice of Roy Fenwick, supervisor of music for the department of education, the board passed a motion to employ a new supervisor of music. The resignation of Mrs. M. B. Seldon as supervisor of music was placed before the board.

The new supervisor will receive the same rate of pay as did Mrs. Seldon. Mr. Fenwick stressed the necessity for musical training in a well balanced education. He pointed out that almost all children at the ages of five or six are musically inclined and enjoy music.

"School is the only place for group training and this particular training in music cannot be postponed," said Mr. Fenwick. "Music studies aid mental development and also improve speech."

The resignation of Norman Williams, board member who has moved from Newmarket, was respectfully accepted by the board. A vacancy on the public school board is thereby created.

At the opening meeting of the Newmarket high school board the Monday evening held in the office of Clark Allan Mills, Principal W. J. Lockhart outlined minor changes in curriculum and administration of the school.

NAVY LEAGUE ASKS AID IN FILLING DITTY BAGS
Navy League headquarters report that 70,000 ditty bags for men in the navy and merchant marine are required of Ontario. Ditty bags for Newmarket workers may be had from Mrs. A. Spears, 43 Lorne Ave., or Mrs. C. M. Carter, 37 Timothy St.

With each ditty bag there is a list of suggested articles such as tobacco, pocket novels, toilet kits, etc. Deadline for the filling of the ditty bags is the middle of October.

SUTTON BOY WOUNDED
Cpl. Perry Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holder, Sutton West, was wounded on July 25 while attached to the Lorne Scots Regiment in France. He was wounded through the right lung and chest, through the back, right forearm and wrist. He is recovering in a hospital in England.

Cpl. Holder enlisted in August, 1940, and went overseas in February, 1941. He went to France the latter part of June. He will be 25 years old in November.

SALVAGE COLLECTION
Your salvage committee has arranged a collection of waste paper and rags on Saturday, Sept. 16, at 1 p.m., weather permitting. Householders are asked to bundle all kinds of waste paper and rags and have it ready for collection.

For convenience in handling, newspapers and magazines should be tied tightly in bundles and loose paper packed in corrugated boxes and securely tied.

Boy Scouts and Cubs will be around on Saturday morning with containers and string.

KILLED IN ACTION

After three months overseas, Pte. Harry Chadwick, 33, has been reported killed in France. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chadwick, Newmarket. His brother, Bob, also lives here. His wife, the former Norma Lorraine Carlisle, lives at Oak Ridges.

BLOOD CLINIC FRIDAY

The mobile blood clinic will visit Newmarket Friday. The clinic will be held at Trinity United church. If their name is not on the roll, donors and prospective donors are asked to register at the town clerk's office or phone 250 for an appointment.

LION SPEAKER REVIEWS WAR

A description of the Siegfried Line and a prophecy, that once the line was by-passed or breached, the war's end in Europe would be a matter of weeks, were heard by the Newmarket Lions Club at their opening night. Rev. Henry Cotton was principal speaker, choosing as subject, The Siegfried Line, What Next?

Declaring that the second battle of London has been won, Mr. Cotton said: "Over a million homes have been damaged by Nazi bombing. The Germans sought to knock out the heart of the empire but London could take it. The Cockney spirit bends but it never breaks. The lights of London will shine again next week."

Turning to the war in the air, Mr. Cotton said that "the battle of the air is almost won. Many of us have felt that the Nazis were hoarding their air strength for the battle over fortress Germany. Monday the Americans shot down 150 planes in one of the biggest air battles of the war."

"In the 70 days from D Day to Aug. 15, we have lost 14,795 Allied airmen killed or missing. We haven't had the remotest idea of the air battle that has been fought over Europe in the last two months. We have lost 2,950 planes to the Nazis 2,990 plus 651 on the ground."

"On the seas, the sub-war is nearly over. During the last war, I remember reading the German papers in our prisoner of war camp and how jubilant the headlines were the month the Germans sank a million tons of Allied shipping. England was very close to (Page 10, Col. 7)

Opening Night Observed By Newmarket Lions

Newmarket Lions club held their opening night Monday at St. Paul's church. Present were 53 members and guests. Herman Gilroy presided over the meeting which was his first as president.

Presentation of a lion statuette was made to past president Fred Thompson and key rings were presented to Jack Luck, Chester Best and President Gilroy for bringing new members the previous year.

Carnival chairman Frank Courtney presented his report of the carnival which was voted the "biggest and bestest" by his fellow Lions. The carnival netted over $3,000 for the club.

Fred Lundy read the report of Mrs. Dorothy Bowman on the speech correction work she had done the previous year. Mrs. Bowman was not present to deliver the report in person having gone to California for further study.

Mrs. Bowman's report outlined the work she had done with 35 children who have suffered from various types of speech defects.

PLAY-OFFS TONIGHT

The Newmarket military camp will play No. 2 C.A.C.T.R. in the third game of the softball play-offs at the camp tonight at 5:45.

Late News

The final battle for Warsaw is underway after seven weeks' siege.

The British radio reveals that Russian army patrols have crossed the Czech border.

A new crossing has been made into Holland.

American forces are reported to be fighting in Brest. An American spearhead is reported to be within four miles of Aachen, Germany.

British sources claim Anthony Eden is expected to arrive shortly at the Quebec conference after conferring with Polish government officials. Henry Morgenthau, U.S. treasury head, is also expected to attend the conference.

Town Has Just Complaint About Dump, Reeve Says

Reeve Fred Lundy told Tuesday night's council meeting that in his opinion, the townsfolk had a just complaint regarding Newmarket dump.

"The difficulty is to get a suitable piece of ground on which to erect an incinerator," Reeve Lundy declared. "If there are any farmers who have a suitable piece of ground for the erection of an incinerator, I want them to get in touch with me."

Reeve Lundy said that he thought that many people had the wrong idea about incinerators. "There is no appreciable smoke when the incinerator is working," he said. "There would be no raw garbage from the operation of the incinerator but there would be ashes." Reeve Lundy said that he understood the ashes were of high value as fertilizer.

"There is no question, however, that the dump has outlived its usefulness," he said.

Met Many Local Boys, Soldier Writes Home

In a letter to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund, P.O. Bob Benville writes: "It was indeed a grand surprise to hear from you and to receive your appreciated gift of 300 cigarettes. I think more of those cigarettes and the thoughtfulness of you and your colleagues than anything I have ever received, especially now as we are rationed to a single pack a day while ashore—one disadvantage of being on dry land and I don't expect to be on the billowy Atlantic patrol again until after my leave which is somewhere in the neighborhood of October 1, providing the horse-shoes still persist."

"I wish to thank you all for the 300 smokes I received this week," writes Pte. J. F. Groves to the Newmarket Veterans' Association. "They were a real treat and they looked good to me. You see, you can buy them over here, but they are not exactly what you can call a smoke so it's sure great to get a real smoke from home."

"I start my nine days' leave soon and expect to see Scotland for the first time. I'll have my eyes open for town boys because seeing somebody from the home town sure makes a guy feel better for a while."

"I've seen Walt. German several times since he was wounded in France and the youngest McGann boy who was wounded in Italy. They both were on their way to recovery when I last saw them. Walt. German expects to leave for home soon, so you may see him again before I do."

"Cheerio Vets, till I can thank you all in person."

"Once again I have received a fine donation of cigarettes from your club and I want to take this opportunity of thanking you, the Vets, and all the grand people who make these donations possible," reads a letter from Cpl. Ernest Tunstead to the Newmarket Veterans. "You people are certainly doing a fine job here in Newmarket."

"I have also another Newmarket chap in my platoon, a fine chap by the name of Caradonna, and we are looking forward to thanking you people in person. Once again, thanks."

HAS OPERATION

Jean Wheeler, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wheeler, Newmarket, who underwent an appendix operation at York County hospital on Monday, is getting along nicely.

Townfolk To Decide If Community Rink Is Worthwhile Proposal

Newmarket town council Tuesday night unanimously passed by-law 853 authorizing a vote of property owners on the question: Are you in favor of the purchase by Newmarket of the Newmarket arena property for operation as a town enterprise for $17,000, and for the issue of debentures for such sum payable over a period of eight years.

The by-law sets Oct. 10 as date for the vote.

Before the town can take over the arena, the property owners and others who are authorized to vote on money by laws, must first register their approval at the polls. Results of the vote, if in favor of taking over the rink, must then be sent to the municipal board of the province of Ontario which will frame an act authorizing the issuance of debentures for passage through Ontario legislature.

There was a little discussion of the by-law by councillors. On a motion by Frank Bowser, the by-law was accepted as passed after the second reading. Town Clerk Norman Mathews was ordered to insert the advertisement in The Era and Express, giving notice of the coming vote.

The by-law was framed following several meetings between a committee of council and the directors of Newmarket Arena Ltd. The committee reported strongly in favor of the purchase of the arena and the council endorsed their report.

If the vote of Oct. 10 is in favor of taking over the arena, the rink will operate this winter, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales told council.

Former Town Resident, Edward Dillane Dies

The death occurred at St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, on Sept. 13, of Edward E. Dillane. Mr. Dillane lived in Newmarket for nearly 17 years before moving to Toronto in 1922. He built the house that J. C. Best now resides in.

Mr. Dillane married Elizabeth Carey of Tottenham, who predeceased him nearly 22 years ago.

Surviving are two sons, Drs. J. George and W. Edward Dillane, both serving overseas.

The funeral service will be held in Toronto on Friday afternoon. Interment Mount Taggart cemetery, Tottenham.

PLAN FOR V-DAY

A committee, charged with preparing plans for celebrating the surrender of Germany, was formed at Tuesday night's meeting of the town council. Members of the committee are Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales and Councillors Frank Bowser and J. A. Perks.

The committee will meet with community leaders to lay out a program of celebration for the day Germany falls.

All-Stars Victors, 18-17, In Girls' Challenge Series

You've got to hand it to them! The All-stars defeated the Town Ladies 18-17, to mark up their third win in a three of five series at the Stuart Scott school grounds.

The All-stars challenged the Towners with one thought in mind: The Town Ladies can be beaten. And on Monday evening, they proved it.

When two evenly matched teams are battling it out for championship honors, games are won and lost on the breaks and errors. The Towners seemed to have had more than their share of errors which spelt finish for the satin-clad girls after a season of 11 straight wins.

It was the best game of the season with girls from both clubs handing out a good brand of ball. The All-stars took the lead in the last half of the first and increased it by touching Phyllis Osborne for ten runs in the first three innings while the Towners only collected four.

It was thought a little strategy might pull the game out of the fire for the Towners and Rudy Ruddock brought Ruth Armistage, a new recruit, to the mound.

Ruth, with a change of pace, held the All-stars for two innings, allowing only one run to cross the plate until Lois Manning clouted the first homer of the season.

It was not until the first of the sixth that the Towners realized they were in a ball game and made a desperate bid to come near the top, twice loading the bases to come through with five runs and only letting two make the circuit for the All-stars.

With the Towners six runs down in the last inning, Margaret VanZant bunted to first, Andrews and Armistage fled to deep field, loading the bases. Phyllis Pegg and Viola Rutledge each nipped Marg. Hisey, sending in a run each. Phyllis Osborne then hit a home run, sending in three ahead of her to

MAYOR'S STATEMENT

The following statement was issued by Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales:

A plebiscite is to be put before the taxpayers of Newmarket in regards to the purchase of the arena. Many facts need elucidating to clarify the reasons for the purchase of same and an endeavor in this phase is as follows:

Financial. In the first instance, what the taxpayer or any business person naturally likes to know is: "Will this be an asset or a liability?" The answer is: "Any arena properly managed and properly promoted cannot fail to be revenue producing if there is the population." Newmarket has 4,000 people residents and 35,000 people non-residents. In other words, it has a drawing power of 39,000. This is a substantial number one.

Newmarket has always been an outstanding sports town and although it has died partially, it can rise again if given the opportunity. A general week in the life of an arena in the winter includes: public skating, hockey, figure skating, mardis gras and development of the school-age child.

In reference to the school child: body development is coming to the fore more and more every day in the school curriculum and in the winter, the arena supplies this much needed recreational activity. Every Friday is set aside from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. for the purpose of teaching skating and hockey and team spirit. The evening from 7 to 9 is set aside for general skating—all free. The rink, the teachers, the music, all facilities are absolutely free for this night. The remainder of the week will produce good revenue and therefore, can easily be given this time to youth.

Private ownership cannot do this.

In the summer, a portable floor could be put in the arena and it could be used for roller skating, dancing, public meetings, fall fair, etc.

All in all, on a yearly basis, the arena could be a great commodity.

VOTERS WILL DECIDE

Are you in favor of the purchase by the town of Newmarket of the Newmarket arena property for operation as a town enterprise for the price of $17,000, and for the issue of debentures for such sum payable over a period of eight years? That is the question Newmarket voters, authorized to vote on money by-laws, will be asked to decide.

The voters go to the polls Oct. 10. Before that time, it will be the obligation of all voters to examine this question in the light of community benefit.

The Era and Express places its columns at the disposal of anyone who wishes to discuss the question in letters or articles.

This is a community enterprise. Let us have community interest.

SALVATION ARMY APPEALS

The Salvation Army is making its annual appeal for funds to carry on its work among the sick and the destitute, among the very young and the very old, and among the men in the services.

As in previous years, the Salvation Army will make a personal canvass of the town. Campaign Chairman J. O. Little says that the town's objective is $1,500.

The work of the Salvation Army, much of it unpublished, is wide-spread. Least noticed is their unflagging interest in men and women who have sinned in some way against society, the outcasts. No matter what the crime, the Salvation Army has proven itself a ready friend. In the past year, 1,286 prisoners were entrusted to the Salvation Army, 3,275 were restored to home and former employment, 21,752 were interviewed in prisons and police courts, 2,670 services were held in prisons.

It is to continue such work that the Salvation Army asks support in their campaign for funds.

PETITIONS STILL NEEDED

Ian Mackenzie, minister of pensions and national health, replying to criticism of the crowding at Christie Street hospital, declared recently that the accommodation at Christie Street was "amply adequate."

In Toronto, Saturday, he told delegates who waited on him that they had his assurance that there would never be over-crowding in Christie Street hospital again.

Last summer, Mr. Mackenzie said that his department was unable to obtain priorities from U.S.A. for material to construct a new hospital. Washington authorities stated that at no time, had application been made for priorities by Mr. Mackenzie's department.

On Nov. 11, 1943, Mr. Mackenzie declared that work would be started at Sunnybrook for a new hospital without delay. Until a month ago, the one sod that the minister had turned in dedication ceremonies was a mute monument to the minister's promise. In eight months, nothing was done except a small amount of grading.

In recent weeks, petitions signed by 18,000 men and women have been forwarded to Mr. Mackenzie's office. In reply, Mr. Mackenzie has come to Toronto and has stated that Christie Street hospital will be abandoned as soon as possible.

In the light of Mr. Mackenzie's previous statements, many more petitions will have to be signed before Sunnybrook hospital will be built and Christie Street hospital abandoned.

FAVORS TOWN RINK

By Orville Gaudin

When a fire destroyed the old rink a number of years ago, a group of public-spirited citizens built our present arena. Of course, it is well understood, this was done in order to provide healthy recreation for our youth, rather than with any idea of making a lucrative investment. However, now that the town is in a better position financially, they feel they should be relieved of this responsibility.

I believe the town should take over the arena because under the circumstances it is the only honorable thing to do; also because it is still a solid investment for all citizens who rate health and happiness as legitimate dividends. Nevertheless, it is imperative that we keep the transaction in its true perspective if we are to reap the full benefit from our investment.

Hence, it is folly to assume that the arena will pay handsome dividends under public ownership when it failed to do so under a board of our most enterprising citizens. Such an arrangement may not appeal to childless taxpayers. Nevertheless, such people must learn that the welfare of our children is the concern of all citizens, not simply the children's parents.

Children are the nation's most precious asset; therefore, it is our collective duty to provide every essential facility for their physical and mental development. Fortunately medical science is evolving from the curative phase to the preventive; we have learned that prevention is not only the most logical means of fighting disease, but, is also the cheapest in the long run.

Canadian people must first learn the importance of healthy exercises and relaxation through various cultural pursuits before we can hope to raise health standards. Only strong bodies and contented minds resist disease. In this scientific age we are steadily increasing the number of labor-saving inventions, until we are fast becoming a nation of weaklings. Our government soon learned this fact at the outbreak of war; consequently, they had to hurriedly call up ex-prize fighters and other athletes to condition our fighting men.

Because sport is becoming so commercialized it is failing in its original purpose, that of building healthy bodies. When sport becomes strictly a business proposition it also becomes simply a spectacle for the majority. Watching sport may be an excellent means of relaxation but from a health standpoint, actual participation increases its value a thousandfold. Hence, we should have more sports which everyone can play.

Skating is a fine, exhilarating sport for everyone, while figure-skating is on a level with ballet-dancing for developing grace and posture. Let us organize enough school hockey teams so that every boy can be on a team; give every girl an opportunity to learn figure skating. We should organize factory hockey too, because men who labor long hours indoors need the pleasure and relaxation of outdoor sports. Boxing, wrestling, basketball, classes in gymnastics and callisthenics, colossal sport pageants, there is no end to the activities that could be planned under one roof.

Let us turn the Newmarket arena over to the people; make it a great centre for all forms of physical culture. Make the people realize it belongs to them, a co-operative project, a community enterprise for the betterment of our youth. Let us help create such a spirit from the outset through a full understanding that we spread any deficits we may incur over all the people. I am sure if the people get their teeth into such a proposition, there will be no deficits in a short time. Our townspeople have plenty of civic pride and community spirit when worthwhile undertakings are involved. Consequently, the correct approach to any such project must not be "what can we get out of this," but rather, "what can we put into this?"

U.S. TAX PLAN

(Condensed from Time Magazine)

Last week the Committee for Economic Development launched an assault on the U.S.A. tax structure. In a 47-page brochure the C.E.D. attempted to put a new face on the U.S.A. tax system, with full postwar employment as the criterion.

The plan asserts that the U.S.A. federal income must be levied mainly on individual—not corporate—income taxes for the minimum $16 to $18 billion of revenue needed in the first peacetime year.

C.E.D. attacks high corporate taxes as being harmful to employment. The present tax, says C.E.D., stunts the growth of a small company. Reaching into the stream of business operations, the tax grabs vital funds where and when they would be most likely to create more jobs, increase wages, or reduce the price of goods manufactured. High excise and sales taxes are criticized as bringing higher prices and reducing purchasing power.

Personal income tax, says C.E.D., should provide at least half of total federal collections. But peacetime rates must be lower than 1944 rates. Even so, $77 billion of the nation's $140 billion of income (principally that of the lower paid group) would escape direct taxation.

Inasmuch as the revenue yield of their tax plan is calculated to average only about $18 billion at $140 billion national income, it looks as if C.E.D. were prepared to accept deficit financing when national income falls below $140 billion.

In many respects the C.E.D. plan parallels much of labor's tax thinking. The C.I.O. also is opposed to excise and sales taxes, and a number of top labor economists are known to subscribe generally to the principles of C.E.D.'s tax program.

WHAT OF FUTURE?

By Garnet Castor
(Formerly Principal of Sutton Public School)

I had the pleasure of attending a short summer course for social workers at the University of British Columbia during the first two weeks in August. Some of the questions discussed by representatives from the Y.M.C.A., Montreal; Y.W.C.A., Toronto and Winnipeg; and a number of similar organizations in Victoria and Vancouver, included: What is ahead for the youth of tomorrow? Are we going through the same economic struggle of before the war? What are we going to do about it now?

It is only through organizations such as the Kiwanis club and Lions club that a better social order is going to be developed. We have learned at the cost of two wars in 25 years that man cannot live unto himself alone nor can countries live unto themselves alone.

Since one country depends on another, it is the concern of every citizen to know his neighbor, and his neighbor may be anyone in the world because we are within a few hours by air from any point on the globe.

It will be through educating not only the young people of today but the adults as well that we will be able to live at peace with our neighbors. This can be brought about through frequent conferences and group meetings where common problems can be discussed instead of fighting them out on the battle-field.

We have plenty of able citizens, capable of giving leadership, who must contribute to the plans of post-war reconstruction. I am sure everyone is giving it some thought not only in British Columbia but throughout Canada for who hasn't felt the grip of this world conflict.

AN EXPERT'S VIEW

Writing in Saturday Night of Aug. 19, Dr. Charlotte Whitton, authority on social services, suggests that the money to be invested in family allowances as proposed by the recent federal bill, might better be spent in grants to the provinces enabling them to extend their existing social services.

Dr. Whitton points out that the provinces have their own machinery for social and welfare work. Powerful voluntary organizations work hand in hand with provincial departments. The proposal to make family allowances a federally administered benefit completely by-passes these resources.

The cost of administering the family allowances will be greatly increased as a result of the federal government setting up its own agencies, Dr. Whitton states. The government estimate of the cost of the allowances and their administration is placed at $250 million. Dr. Whitton sees the cost exceeding $400 million within 24 months of the bill's application.

Family Allowances Bill

The Era and Express prints two opinions of the highly controversial family allowances bill. The first is an excerpt from the Ottawa News Letter of the National Labor Federation of Canada. The other, entitled The Essence of the Dole, is written by Lewis Milligan.

(Ottawa News Letter)

The Mackenzie King government is not going to be bound by the old order of things but "is going to look into the heart of the existing situations and discover where the fault lies."

This was the ringing declaration of Prime Minister King to parliament in speaking on the family allowances bill. Though discussing only one measure, the prime minister made it clear that a new order for the Canadian people is not only being planned, but is being rapidly fashioned by the various laws already before parliament, or soon to be presented to it.

Mr. King said that 84 percent of all Canadian children are maintained by less than one-fifth the working population of the dominion.

"Next to defending our country from external foes," he asserted, "this one-fifth of our working population are performing the greatest of all national services by insuring the survival of the nation."

Saying that higher wage earners received an allowance as income tax for dependent children, Mr. King stated that the family allowance measure was a sincere attempt to "help remove existing injustices."

"Human resources are of much more importance than material resources," he declared. "You cannot have one section of the nation undernourished, ill-clothed and unequal to its daily task and not have the rest of the nation sooner or later suffer as a consequence." In recent months more than 50 percent of men examined for the armed forces were rejected on medical grounds, the Prime Minister said, and observed that poor conditions during their youth undoubtedly contributed to this situation.

Mr. King said that, like other measures brought before parliament by the present government, the family allowance bill is designed to provide a greater measure of equal opportunity for all. His forceful and forthright pronouncements were regarded by many as a new charter for the nation's economic justice throughout Canada for people in all walks of life. Leaders of all opposition groups endorsed the principle of the family allowance plan, but the Progressive Conservatives tried to block the measure by claiming it was unconstitutional.

Their effort to do this was defeated by 127 to 20, all groups in the commons except the Progressive Conservatives supporting the government. Mr. King referred to the bill as a "recognition of the right of children of poor parents of what is already recognized as the right of children whose parents are in more fortunate circumstances."

By Lewis Milligan

Speaking during the debate in the House of Commons on the family allowances bill, Dr. Herbert A. Bruce said: "I am not opposed to aid for children, but I am opposed to this particular form of aid because it gives no guarantee that the children will benefit, because it will be costly and cumbersome in operation, full of inequalities, and, finally, because it is the essence of the dole."

This is a fair summing up of the chief objections to this proposed legislation, and they are objections that should be earnestly considered by every member of parliament and every Canadian citizen. Setting aside the alleged political motives behind the introduction of the measure at this time, the social principles involved are very serious and far reaching.

The chief objection to the system of relief during the depression period was that it was in the nature of a dole, and that it was demoralizing. It created in the recipients a sense of inferiority and of pauperism, which sapped the foundations of self-respect and independence. The result was chronic idleness on the part of many people and bitterness against our whole social system on the part of those striving to retain their self-respect.

"Borrowing dulle the edge of husbandry," says Shakespeare, and the dole did far worse than that to the working people of Canada and the old country. It created a resentment which has been fostered and capitalized for the spread of revolutionary ideas. The whole case for socialism is based on the claim that our democratic system cannot provide social security for the people without resorting to degrading handouts. And yet the socialist party is giving its full support to this legislation which puts parents and children alike in the position of dependents upon the state. This is the central principle of socialism anyway.

Hitler and Mussolini introduced family bonuses on the pretense of assisting large families, but their real purpose was to encourage parents to go in for large families as future reinforcements for the militarized state. By this means the children became virtual wards of the state, and as such the boys were more readily regimented into military service. It is little wonder that German youth of the last generation showed little love or respect for their parents and bestowed their affection and loyalty upon Hitler, to whose bounty they owed their existence and upbringing.

Canada should be the last to adopt a system of assisting families that has proved so demoralizing to the German people, even though this legislation is prompted by highest humanitarian motives. Surely, as Dr. Bruce contended, there must be some alternative to baby bonuses which will preserve the sanctity of the family, maintain a normal birth rate and place the major economic burden of raising children where it belongs, on the parents who bring them into the world.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

THE WELL PAVED ROAD

The trek along the highway of knowledge has begun again and small feet and feet that are larger, hurry or loiter as inclination or urgency dictates.

Looking in the shop windows, one feels the old fascination creeping on, for the new books and the gay scribbles. All my pennies in my early school days went for scribbles and slate pencils—slate pencils with some kind of checked paper on the upper half, some plain, but all with varying degrees of squeak, which must have set a teacher's already frayed nerves on edge. But slates and slate pencils, bottles of water and slate rags have all gone from the scholastic halls to be replaced by the less germey note books, and this is all to the good.

Maybe our lack of knowledge of germs saved us—what we didn't know didn't seem to hurt us. The somewhat stately odor from insufficiently cleaned slates didn't seem to have the devastating effect one would expect nowadays. Another advantage the child of today enjoys is the ample window space, letting in the life-giving sunshine. Looking back, it seems to me the school rooms were far too dark, making it difficult to see the blackboard and putting a strain on the pupils' eyes, for which they sometimes paid later. We attended strictly to business too—or else.

If one's thoughts strayed to the lovely little field and bush behind one's home where on the holidays and Saturdays one kept house, had a circus, tried to sketch and paint, and generally lived in another and more beautiful world, one was brought to earth with a rude jolt and maybe had to write something 20 times or do a hated problem in arithmetic. I've often wondered if these teachers had made me write out what I was dreaming of, what effect it would have had—at any rate I like to imagine I might have been a great writer.

I think the worst fault I can think of in the old September was the repression. We had no scope for our imagination, no real means of self-expression. I remember how I loved to write a synopsis or a composition but these came so seldom in comparison with my wishes. And here is where the education of today gains, in my estimation, self-expression. Orally and on paper, children now have the opportunity to cultivate that greatest of all arts, expression.

Even a child or young person with no great talent in writing or speaking must make an effort, and who knows how much this will mean to him or her in later life. They will not be stricken dumb when confronted with the necessity for speaking in public, nor will they have to learn the art later in life when study is more difficult and self-consciousness more in evidence.

But to one teacher my heartfelt thanks go—he taught us to READ—not just to gabble through a given section of a book. I remember one day having to read that over-read piece of literature, Portia's speech in the Merchant of Venice. I loved reading, and was going along having a glorious time when I came to earth with a thud as Mr. Gillette asked "Why did you emphasize—" I forgot the word.

I suppose my face presented the picture of a slate wiped clean of everything as I stammered out "I don't know." "Well," said he, "never put emphasis on a word till you know WHY you do it." I continued my reading in a chastened frame of mind, but I never forgot the lesson.

Projects were things unheard of in my time, but which I think are wonderful. Who knows what talents may emerge, given opportunity, and in manual training and domestic science other opportunities arise. So we live and learn, the young and the not too young, for no matter what our age we travel still, the highway of knowledge.

25 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Sept. 12, 1919.

Miss Constance Roadhouse is visiting relatives in Orillia.

Miss Nellie Forsyth was the guest of Mrs. L. G. Jackson at Orchard Beach last Friday.

Two of the new boilers, shipped direct from Scotland, are installed at Cane's factory and the steam was turned on last Monday morning.

A car of 15-inch sewer pipe is being distributed at the south end for the commencement of town sewers.

As Mr. Fred Morning was coming home from the Toronto exhibition one night last week a dog in Thornhill ran at the motor, striking the front wheel and upsetting the car. All escaped injury except Mrs. Morning, who sustained a fracture of her back.

Mr. Alfred Stark motored from Michigan last week and spent a few days with his brothers, Will, George and Jim. Mr. W. E. Dolan and family spent a couple of days at Island Grove this week.

Mr. F. Chantler left on Monday for a trip to Algonquin Park.

50 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Sept. 16, 1891.

Mr. Ed. Barry of Acton is home on a visit.

Mrs. L. B. Scott left last Friday for Welland on a month's visit.

On Tuesday afternoon the pupils of the model school were given an unexpected test in fire drill, the first for over a year and it took a full minute for the 250 pupils to march out. It has been done in 45 seconds. Some of the children, not acquainted with the alarm, were considerably frightened.

There was a white frost Wednesday morning.

There was a good market on Saturday. Potatoes were 60 cents a bag.

Mr. Claude McCullough had three fingers badly lacerated while using a circular rip saw at the Novelty Works recently.

There is a bigger crowd from this district going to Toronto fair this year.

The poles along Main and Huron Sts., belonging to the Bell Telephone Co., look quite respectable since receiving a coat of paint, which operation was completed this week. It is to be hoped that the painted poles will be kept free from advertising matter.

WILLOW BEACH

Mrs. Wm. Thompson is enjoying a motor trip through Quebec province this week.

A pleasant afternoon was spent at The Willows on Friday when Miss L. Holborn entertained a number of ladies at an afternoon tea.

Mrs. Alex. Powell is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Powell. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Draper were up to their cottage last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. Jacobs, Toronto, are building a home here and will take up residence.

Victorious Canadians enter Berlin

Every Canadian looks forward to that headline. Every Canadian believes that some day soon a great victorious convoy will thunder down the road to Berlin. Huge Canadian trucks... Canada's crack battle equipment, and gallant Canadian soldiers, world's finest fighting men, will all be there.

Will you be with them on the road?... or at least, on the way?

The smashing defeats we must inflict upon the enemy before that day, however, cannot be won except by fierce, determined fighting... and the First Canadian Army, you may be sure, will help to deal the hammer blows that punch the way along the Berlin road.

That's why Canada's Army needs men and needs them NOW!

St. James' Arranges Harvest Thanksgiving

St. James' annual Harvest Thanksgiving service will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. Rev. J. T. Rhodes, incumbent, will have charge and be the speaker. The choir of St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, will provide the music.

The church will be suitably decorated with grain, vegetables, fruit and flowers. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this service of thanksgiving.

PINE ORCHARD

Bernice and Barbara Lundy of Toronto have returned home after spending holidays at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lundy.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Allen, Bothwell, spent Labor day weekend with Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen and Miss A. Widdifield.

There was a good attendance at the Willing Workers meeting on Sept. 6 at the home of Mrs. E. Starr, who was assisted by Mrs. M. Sheridan. The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. R. Armitage, in charge. After singing the hymn What a Friend We Have in Jesus and 23rd Psalm in unison, prayer was offered by Mrs. E. Starr. The lesson was read by Mrs. G. McClure. After the business session, Mrs. E. Starr read extracts from Living Abundantly, by Kirby Page who personally autographed the book.

The meeting closed with Wonderful Words of Love and prayer by the president. Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed. The next meeting will be in the form of a pot-luck dinner and quilting on Oct. 5 at the home of Mrs. E. Johnston, who will be assisted by Mrs. W. J. McCallum.

Annual anniversary services of the Union church will be held on Sunday, Oct. 15.

An annual congregational meeting and supper will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hope on Oct. 2.

Mrs. Lloyd, Toronto, was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wood and Mrs. A. Lloyd.

DOWN THE CENTRE

George Haskett, Newmarket baseball impresario, informs us that the Newmarket youngsters, district midget champions, will not compete in the O.A.B.A. series owing to school starting and travelling difficulties, although he would have liked to see the kids have a crack at some of the bigger centres as a reward for their work.

Canaltown oldtimers clashed twice with the younger generation recently to let the lads see the oldsters have not forgotten what it's all about and secure an idea of the class of ball needed to make the grade in a higher series. The result served too, to prevent any possible inflation of cap sizes among the young fellows. Next step, if possible, is a game against the boys at Newmarket camp.

The oldsters included in their lineup for the two games: Charlie VanZant, c. Ollie Gould and Bob Peters, p. George Haskett, Rudy Ruddock, Ken Tansley and the extra pitcher on the infield, Herb Cain, Pete Neufeldt and Mel Broughton in the outfield, a pretty strong aggregation and one that, with a little practice could give a good account of themselves against the camp team or most intermediate clubs.

The scores were 9-3 and 11-2. We appreciate George's remarks regarding our humble efforts on behalf of kid baseball in the district and what pleased us most was to see the kids justify our confidence in them. The future of baseball is definitely assured for Aurora, Markham, Richmond Hill and Newmarket, which means postwar completion on a bigger scale and something for the fellows in the factories and stores and the kids to look forward to when the day's work is over. Let us, however, not forget that it is necessary to see the growing youngsters are kept encouraged to play and not be overshadowed by the rest, else the same situation that killed off baseball once will come again.

Night baseball and softball is something we visualize on a big scale once peace years come. Confined now to the cities, there is no reason why many of the towns can't follow suit. Simcoe, who have a dandy girls' team, have the bulbs on after dark and are able because of this to bring in some of the leading American and Toronto teams and pay expenses too. We presume nobody knows what the future holds for the Newmarket fair grounds, now occupied by the camp, but the soldier boys have really made the old diamond one of the best in Ontario and with increased bleacher seating and lights Newmarket would have for a very few hundred dollars a ball park, soccer field and general sports stadium second to none.

The other parks could easily be improved and lighted too. Dark, hazy and early starting evenings in peacetime were bugbears to the teams and fans and with the knowledge of seeing a full game, better competition, and that it wasn't necessary to bolt down food and run break-neck to see a game, Mr. and Mrs. Q. Fan might well feel inclined to pay a bit for the privilege of seeing sports action. In place of grouching when the hat is passed around. We give you that idea as another postwar plan to consider. We know they laughed at a lot of ideas that once appeared as unnecessary but are now practical necessities if there is to be good community spirit engendered. The tennis players and lawn bowlers all play under lights and while the requirements for flood-light sports is bigger, it can be just as successful and pay its way too.

Two-past combinations have reached the golf limelight in recent weeks, both mother and son combinations too. Up at Briars Club at Jackson's Point Mrs. H. G. Leary, wife of Dr. Harold Leary, Sutton dentist, won the club ladies' championship as well as the nine-hole handicap event. John Leary, an up and coming teenage competitor, took the boys' championship and the boys' trophy competition, which makes four trophies to grace the Learys' mantelpiece. They are quite a few good kid golfers from Sutton too.

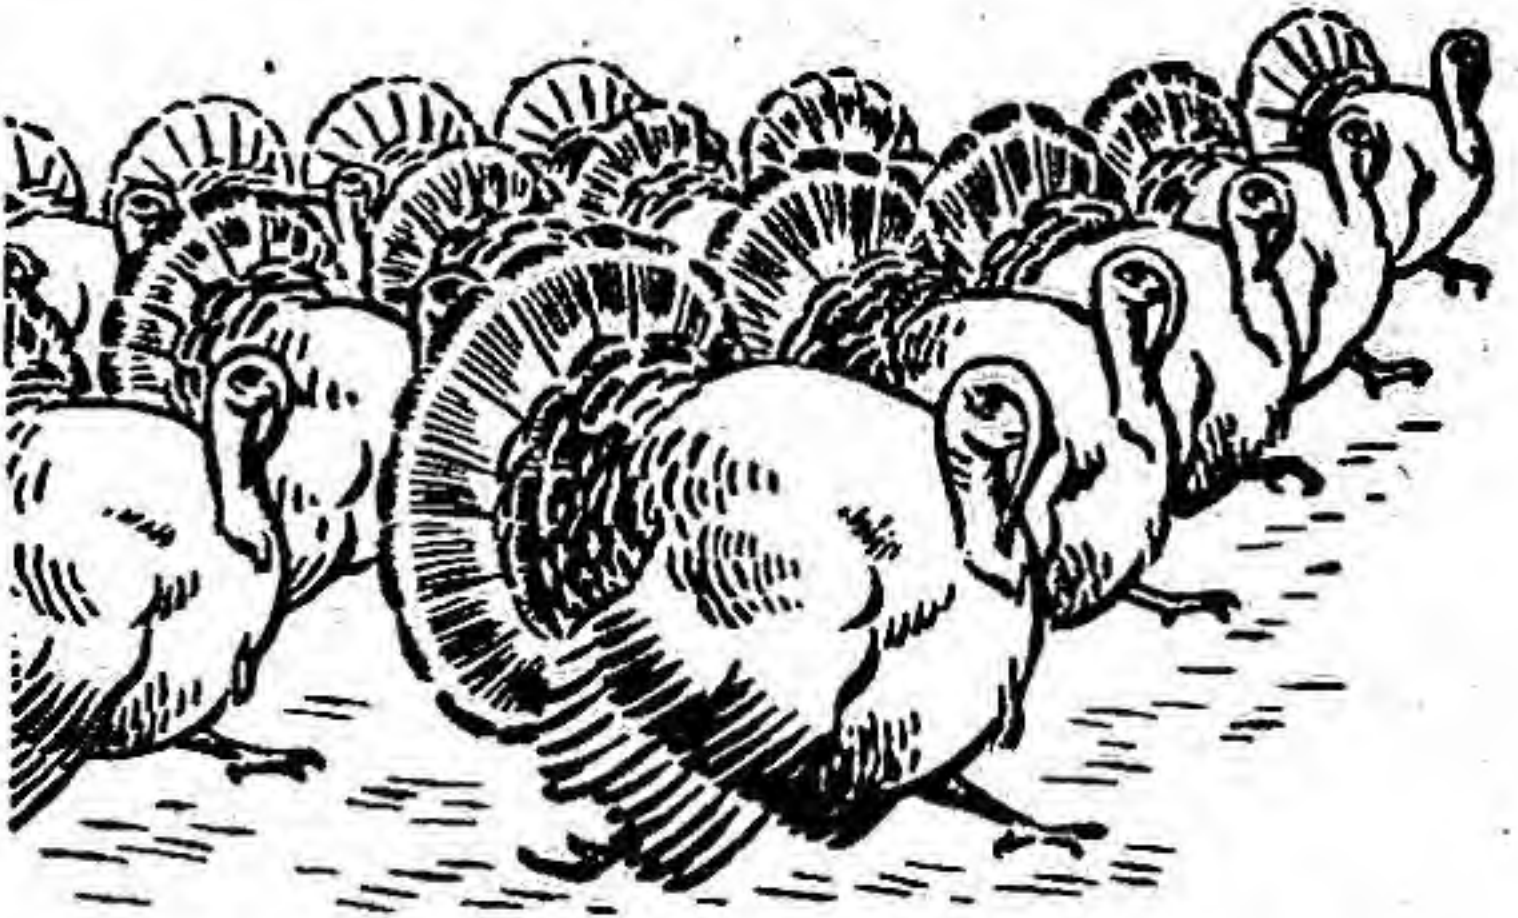

Bill Cross, who won the open event at the Aurora Golf club a few years ago, teamed up with his mother, Mrs. E. C. Cross, of Toronto to take the Ontario title in this section with a net 90 for the course. Both are members of St. Andrew's Golf club.

Locally there are one or two combinations of families that could do pretty well. Mrs. Jack Brown and her daughter, Peggy Pearson, would make a strong mother and daughter team, and Colin Nisbet and Keith would make an outstanding father and son combination. Bill Hooks and his son, Gordon, now overseas, were a smart duo, and of course a few years back Bert Knowles and his eldest son,

ONTARIO FARMERS 1000 MEN WANTED Now!

THIS is an appeal to THE FARMERS OF ONTARIO. The Packing Plants of Ontario, which process and ship your livestock for export, ARE SERIOUSLY SHORT OF MEN. Every available Farmer of Ontario is urged to offer his services for employment in one of the Packing Plants in this province as soon as the essential work of the farm is completed. OVER 1,000 men are required to start in the month of September alone. Good hourly wages will be paid. Transportation to the plant will be provided. Assistance will be given in arranging board and room.

With full staffs, the Packing Plants of Canada have ample capacity to handle even the tremendously increased numbers of cattle, sheep and swine, which Canadian farmers have ready for market this year. When operating to capacity the Packing Plants can keep the market cleared and livestock can be slaughtered, processed and shipped at its most profitable time, when it is at its market peak. Thus, losses which occur when animals are held beyond the peak—through additional feeding costs, through falling away from peak condition and through the danger to price structures when supply threatens to exceed demand—are avoided.

Last year several hundred Ontario farmers volunteered for work in the plants in processing their own products and protecting their own interests. Production for export this year has increased by 40%. Available man-power has shrunk by 28%.

The Ontario Farm Service Force, in conjunction with Employment and Selective Service has undertaken the task of raising sufficient help from Ontario Farmers to keep Packing Plants operating to capacity this year. This department of the Ontario government's Department of Agriculture feels that this extension of its service is as vitally important to the interests of the farmers of this province as anything it has yet undertaken. The need of meat as a primary essential food to our Allied Armies, to the people of Great Britain and to the starving millions in countries being liberated by our victorious armies, is the basic consideration. In addition, efficient operation in the processing and marketing of livestock is necessary in protecting the greatest export market ever opened to Canadian farmers.

Your services are needed from now until spring. If you cannot devote that full period of time, a month or more will be of great assistance.

OFFER YOUR SERVICES AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. If you cannot go to work at once, call or write, stating that you will come, and at what date you will be available. Remember you will be serving your own best interests as well as playing a vital patriotic part in serving your country.

Schelke's horses, although if Sheperton, ace Canadian runner, gets through the Toronto meetings with success he will likely be shipped to Maryland for some important fall engagements in the hotbed of racing. Mary Schelke has been riding the big fellow three miles daily since his temporary retirement a few months ago and north York and federal have done the rest. When Mr. Schelke says Shep is right you can depend on it. Woodbine will tell the tale.
Roy Lockhart, sidekick of Charlie Rowntree, former Kleinberg and Summit hockeyist, is playing lacrosse at Camp Borden for armoured corps. Bobby Thorpe, Eddie Young and Ken Dixon of last year's Brampton Bulls hockey team are also getting in shape for the winter.
Billy Taylor, Toronto Maple Leaf hockeyist, is playing lacrosse at Camp Borden for armoured corps. Bobby Thorpe, Eddie Young and Ken Dixon of last year's Brampton Bulls hockey team are also getting in shape for the winter.

for service with the tars soon. Meanwhile he will probably brush up on the three r's at Aurora high school.
Whitey Jones is another youthful athlete who will shortly sail the seas.
Charlie Rowntree will be back in action again next winter at the Hill and already has plans out for a bigger and better team. The homebrew kids like Stundin, Clement, Sullivan, Rose, Rowntree, will form the nucleus.
Billy Mundell is not likely to be so easily released by Newmarket this winter, to the Hill and some argument may ensue about that.
By the same token Denny Cosgrove and Irky Ross will not likely be allowed to play with the Reserves juniors. Wonder what plans Jimmy Walker, Cliff Gun and Vic Giovanelli have for the kids up north.
So far as Aurora goes, Delroy Babcock, coach of the Aurora public school youngsters, who, with Bill Holloway, is looking after the sports program for the Lions club, intends to give junior hockey a wide berth and concentrate on bantam and midget as a builder-upper for other years. There might be some juvenile hockey but the immediate program is for the younger kids. That means Aurora juveniles will have to perform at either the Hill or Newmarket.
There are said to be some mighty fine junior hockey prospects among the western and northern boys who are employed through selective service at the Collis Leather Co., but of course that may be a summer-time pipe dream of our informant. Midget and bantam hockey will not be a paying proposition for the rink but it will develop players and can provide pretty fair hockey to watch. We hope the boys are entered in the Ontario Minor Hockey association and not confined to playing purely house-league hockey. Give the youngsters something to shoot for and new worlds to conquer.

about the things you buy in wartime
THE 2TORY OF CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR
When you go to a store to buy and can't get the things you want, remember that war upsets the whole machinery of production and supply. This is the whole world.
As Canada is devoting over half its production making things for war, it is inevitable that civilian supply must be reduced.
We just can't produce all the things required to fill the greatly increased civilian demands, but production efforts are being directed to see that the best that is made of materials and labour are available for the production of civilian goods.
Remember these facts when you have difficulties in your shopping.
Obviously babies and children must have underwear. So—the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has given special attention to the production of these garments.
The problem has not been so much one of a lack of raw materials, but of getting the raw materials (wool, cotton, rayon), spun into yarns—and then knit into garments. Canada has never produced all the wool, cotton and rayon yarn she requires. We have always had to get a substantial part of our requirements from other countries, even in peacetime. But since the war, there has been an acute shortage of underwear yarns everywhere.
There has been a greatly increased demand in addition to production difficulties. The efforts of the Board to meet the problem are given below.
THE INCREASED DEMAND RESULTED FROM:
More babies... It's apparently always the way in wartime.
Reduced use of second-hand or "hand-me-down" garments.
Extra buying... Perhaps too many people wanted to be "on the safe side."
Increased consumer buying... More people with more money.
Less home sewing... Mothers have been working outside the home.
Huge demand for underwear by Armed Forces.
MORE UNDERWEAR: but still not enough!
The reason is that it just has not been possible to produce with the skilled workers and machines available to the United Nations enough yarn and garments to meet the increased demands all over the world.
WHAT HAS BEEN DONE ABOUT IT
✓First of all the Board found out the kind and quantity of garments Canadian children must have.
✓This showed that the public is asking for more than is actually needed.
✓So plans were made to see, by directing production all down the line, if we could meet the swollen demand as nearly as possible.
✓Each manufacturer was told to produce an increased number of garments.
✓A constant check is kept on mills to see that they are producing the required number.
✓Manufacturers not previously making children's underwear were induced to go into its production. An additional 600,000 garments will be provided this year from these sources.
✓Negotiations were conducted with production authorities in other countries for supplies of yarn to Canadian knitters for use in children's underwear.
✓Primary cotton mills were required to divert spinning facilities from fabric manufacture to the spinning of underwear yarns.
✓Arrangements were made through National Selective Service to direct more labour to the underwear mills.
✓A special campaign was launched to enlist part time workers.
✓Distribution to retail stores was organized to ensure equitable supply to all areas.
You can't get all you want in wartime

MAGISTRATE'S COURT
Sentence Three Youths
On Break-In Charges
Pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving in King on August 23, R. L. Marshall, R. R. 1, York Mills, was fined $10 and costs.
According to Clifford E. Huff, Toronto, he had been driving on Yonge St. and was approaching Bradford when the car driven by the defendant caught the rear bumper of his car.
"You shouldn't have attempted to pass until you saw that the road was clear to pass," Magistrate Woodliffe told Mr. Marshall.
A similar charge against Howard Brethour, Blackwater, Georgina township, brought a fine of five dollars and costs to the defendant.
According to Constable George Foster, Georgina township, the defendant was driving on the Sutton-Virginia road with four adults seated in the front seat. He stated that the view from the right of the driver was obstructed because one person was seated on another's knee.
Finding three Toronto youths guilty of breaking and entering the summer cottage of William Sturtledge, Lake Simcoe, on August 30, and stealing two fishing reels valued at $20 each and a pair of mitts, Magistrate Woodliffe sentenced them to three months each in jail, the sentences to run concurrent with those meted out in Toronto court the week previous when they were found guilty of stealing a car.
Detective Martindale said he had questioned the youths in reference to entering the cottage and they had made a statement in which they admitted entering by the rear window for the purpose of sleeping the night.
Asked if they wished to say anything, one youth told his worship that they had taken reels to sell them to buy some food. The trio all said they had been discharged from the services because of ill-health, one after three years' over-seas.
Pleading guilty to charges of causing a disturbance on Main St., Newmarket, by shouting and swearing, Magistrate Woodliffe fined Lorne Duncan, Newmarket, $10 and costs and bound his wife, Viola Duncan, in the sum of fifty dollars to keep the peace.
Pleading guilty to a charge of obstructing a police officer, Gordon Sutton, Newmarket, was fined $10 and costs or ten days in jail.
Constable G. W. Curtis told his worship that the defendant and a number of others were making a noise on Main St. at 2:30 a.m. on Aug. 31. When he told them to "move on," they refused and when he attempted to take the license number of their car the defendant turned the plate and would not let him get the number. Constable Curtis testified.
Helen Mesda, Toronto, and Charles Herman Heintzman, Thornhill, were each fined $10 and costs when they were found guilty on charges of illegal possession of liquor.
Constable Aubrey Fleury told his worship that he searched the Mesda car in Whitechurch township at 11:20 p.m. on Aug. 5 and found eight full pints and one part bottle of beer. He said that the defendant admitted ownership of the beer.
Constable J. R. Foote, Whitechurch, stated that he searched Mr. Heintzman's car at Musselman's Lake at 9:45 p.m. on Sept. 2 and found a part bottle of wine. The defendant admitted that the wine was his, Constable Foote said.
A fine of $20 dollars and costs or ten days was imposed on Solly Cohn, R. R. 2, Newmarket, who pleaded guilty to having a load on his truck 4,000 lbs. in excess of the amount allowed by his permit.

UNION STREET
The September meeting of the Union Street Women's Institute was held at the home of Percy James with Mrs. Johnston as hostess.
The meeting opened by singing the Institute ode which was followed by the creed.
The roll-call was answered by "my favorite flower."
It was decided to have a euchre party on Thursday evening, Sept. 14, at Mrs. McClure's. Proceeds will aid soldiers' Christmas boxes.
It was also decided to pack eight dirty bags for the Navy League.
Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. L. Johnston, Mrs. A. Sedore, Mrs. E. McClure and Mrs. P. Murphy.
The next meeting will be held on Oct. 12 instead of Oct. 5 because of the Institute rally at Belhaven on

Y.P.U. ENJOYS WEINER ROAST, TREASURE HUNT
The Y.P.U. of the United church held a successful weiner roast at Willard Cole's bush on Friday night. About 40 attended and the evening was spent in games and singing. The special feature of the evening was a treasure hunt. After lunch, consisting of weiners, coffee and peaches, a worship service was conducted and a short address given by the minister.
On Sunday evening at the regular meeting of the Y.P.U., Mrs. Austin Haines, Sharon, gave a helpful address on "Missions in India." There was a splendid attendance. The society has been invited to a social evening at Wesley United church today.
The Queensville society will be in charge of the devotional period.

Collecting blood here to save lives over there

FORD V-8 ENGINE

It's always dependable!

IN THE QUIET of a little Canadian town a Ford "Red Cross" truck pulls up in front of a hall, school or church. Trained technicians hurry sterile equipment into the building, and soon the townspeople and folks from the surrounding farms are giving blood to save the lives of the boys overseas. Then, right on schedule, the truck is on the way to the next town or village. This is the Mobile Blood Donor Service of the Canadian Red Cross, which collects the blood of thousands of eager donors living far from the permanent clinics in the big cities.

To the deafening roar of our artillery, our men advance behind a protecting wall of fire. Close behind them come Ford military ambulances, pushing forward along shell-torn roads on their missions of mercy. Swiftly the wounded are given first aid, or snatched from the jaws of death with life-saving blood serum from Canada.

Whether on the battlefield or on the home front, these trucks must get through on time.

Their drivers have complete confidence in the famous Ford V-8 engine. It's the engine proved by millions in peacetime . . . tried and proved again by war's cruel tests on the frozen fronts of Russia, in the mad and mountainous of North Africa, in the mud and mountains of Italy and the battlefields of France. More than 300,000 Ford military vehicles, serving under every Allied flag, have told the same wonderful story of the Ford V-8 Engine . . . "It's always dependable!"

TOWN OF NEWMARKET

NOTICE

The Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Town of Newmarket has been offered the opportunity of purchasing from the Newmarket Arena Company Ltd. the premises comprising the Newmarket Arena for the sum of Seventeen Thousand Dollars ($17,000.00). The Town of Newmarket has no authority to purchase this property, or to operate the Arena without the passing of a special Act by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario. The Municipal Council of the Town of Newmarket is desirous of ascertaining the wishes of the voters in the Town of Newmarket qualified to vote on Money Bypasses before making an application for the passing of a special Act by the Legislature, and has accordingly passed the necessary Bylaw to obtain the opinion of the electors on the following question, "Are you in favor of the purchase by the Town of Newmarket of the Newmarket Arena property for operation as a Town enterprise for the price of $17,000.00, and for the issue of debentures for such sum payable over a period of eight years?"

TAKE NOTICE that the foregoing is a correct statement of the question to be submitted to the vote of the electors qualified to vote on Money Bypasses on the Tenth day of October, A.D. 1944, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and seven o'clock in the afternoon at the following places:

—Polling subdivision, St. George's Ward, 1A, 1B, location of poll, 79 Prospect St.

—Polling subdivision, St. Andrew's Ward, 2A, 2B, location of poll, Market Bldg.

—Polling subdivision, St. Patrick's Ward, 3A, 3B, location of poll, Fire Hall.

And that the Seventh day of October, A.D. 1944, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon at the Town Clerk's Office in the said Municipality, has been fixed for the appointment of persons to attend at the Polling places and at the final summing up of the votes by the Clerk.

TAKE NOTICE FURTHER that a tenant who desires to vote upon said question must deliver to the Clerk not later than the Tenth day, before the day appointed for taking the vote a Declaration under The Canada Evidence Act that he is a tenant whose lease extends for the time for which the debt or liability is to be created, or for at least twenty-one years, and that he has by the lease covenanted to pay all Municipal taxes in respect of the property of which he is a tenant, other than local improvement rates.

DATED at Newmarket this Fourth day of September, A.D. 1944. Norman L. Mathews, Clerk. c3w33

In Memoriam

Glover—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, William Glover, who passed away Sept. 9, 1941.

Gone into that light that shines so fair,
Gone from the earth of sorrow and care,
Resting those hands that did their best,
Gone, our dear one, gone to rest.

Ever remembered by his wife, son, Cecil, and daughter, Phyllis.

Glover—In loving memory of a dear father, William Glover, who passed away Sept. 9, 1941.

Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where loneliness never dies,
He lives in the land of glory
'Mid the blue and gold of the skies.

Ever remembered by Wes. and Clara.

Shanks—In loving memory of our dear father, Albert H. Shanks, who passed away Sept. 14, 1941.

case motored to Orchard Beach where the remaining pin-ball machines were identified and played by Constable Wallace and Sgt. Martindale.

Returning to Newmarket police court, Mrs. Harlie, Orchard Beach, was called to the stand by the defence. She testified that she had played the machines at "Funland" and had received "souvenirs," although she had not won any points.

When the defendant, Mr. Jolly, appeared on the stand, he explained to the court that the certificates valued at certain points were used only as a record of the skill of the player. He said that he considered a player was entitled to a "souvenir" and that one who had spent considerable money was entitled to a better "souvenir" than one who had played a shorter time.

If they had been playing a considerable time and had received no points he would also give them a "souvenir." He admitted that he had taken the coupons from Constable Wallace and stated that the only reason he had consulted the police was that he was unable to keep in his mind the value of the "souvenirs."

Counsel for the defence pleaded that the "souvenir" was not held forth as a prize to induce a person to play the machines and contended that the player played for the benefit of amusement only. He declared that the gifts were "souvenirs" of Horneville and were of slight value.

"I don't think that it matters to this court the value of the souvenir," stated Crown Attorney Archie Armstrong. "They were given as a reward for certain points. The value of the points were indicated on the premium card."

"In this case I was not at all impressed by Mr. Jolly's explanation," commented Magistrate Woodliffe. "I was not convinced. I accept the evidence of the two officers who entered the premises and found the goods listed and I find that the goods as is charged. I am fining you $200 including costs or three months in jail and I order the confiscation of all the machines with the exception of the 'Crazy Ball' machine and order that they be destroyed after 30 days and the money found therein paid to the Receiver General of Canada."

A second charge, that of having a slot-machine, was adjourned until next week.

Aurora Librarian Finds Book Interest Increasing

Miss Marjorie Andrews, librarian at Aurora public library, was guest speaker at the United church W.A. this afternoon.

She outlined how a library was formed and financed and urged her hearers to "remember the library belongs to everyone in town." She told of the way books were segregated and recorded and dealt with some of the more modern books on the shelves. As a possible peace-time endeavor or war memorial, she suggested a new public library building might be considered as present quarters were becoming cramped and interest in the library was increasing. "Be library conscious," she urged.

Mrs. Vivian Wilcox, following Miss Andrews' address, dealt with various libraries on the continent she had visited. Mrs. Wilcox was also guest soloist. Mrs. Charles Blibrough presided and the "foot of dimes" was collected before the meeting. Mrs. Ross Linton and Mrs. Bertram Wilson gave readings.

Aurora Bantams Take First Game Of Finals

Aurora Bantams took the first game of the final series from Richmond Hill in Aurora Monday night to the tune of 15-6.

The Hill led 6-5 going into the last of the sixth. Aurora then broke out scoring ten times.

The homesters out-hit and out-fielded the visitors, getting 12 hits and making three errors to the Hill's six hits and five errors.

All players except Milne and Cook for the winners got at least one hit. Leo Anthony, the youngest player on the team, led the way with three clean hits, one good for two bases. R. Simmons, Case and Holman played a splendid game behind the bat, each getting two hits.

Charles and Silvio accounted for two-thirds of the Hill's total with two apiece. Silvio featured in the field with a one-handed stab at a hard-hit ball. King, on third for the local boys, after a shaky start, also made two good catches on fly balls.

Atkinson started on the mound for the Hill letting four runs and five hits in four innings. He struck out seven and walked six. Bennett finished the game and was hit hard, the locals getting seven hits and 11 runs from him. He walked six and struck out two.

Milne opened for Aurora but a walk, an error, and then two more straight walks forced in a run. Ron Simmons then came in with the bases still full. The first man to face Simmons hit safely, scoring another run. Simmons then straightened away striking out the next two and the third popped one to Milne on first. The Hill scored singles in the next four innings. Simmons walking the first man in each inning. In seven innings Simmons allowed six hits and four runs, struck out seven, walked five and hit two.

The second game is scheduled for Wednesday night at the Hill.

ADVANCE LESSON
The bright young thing came into the room and smiled at her mother.

"Mother," she said, "I must have some money for a new dress. Will you ask daddy for it?"

"Ask him yourself, dear," was mother's reply. "You are getting married in a month's time and you must have some practice."

Two More Aurora Soldiers Wounded Serving In Italy

Word has been received by their parents that two more Aurora boys have been wounded in action. The two lads, Pte. Ernest Davis, 48th Highlanders, and Pte. Keith Knowles, Irish Regiment of Canada, are both serving in Italy.

Pte. Davis, who is 20, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis, Metcalfe St., and was born and raised in Aurora, and educated at Aurora schools. He enlisted in 1942, serving at Peterborough, Camp Borden and Camp Shilo, Man. He went overseas early this year and has been in action in Italy for some months. He was formerly employed with the Collis Leather Co. No word as to the extent of his injuries has been received.

Pte. Knowles is the second son of ex-Reeve and Mrs. J. A. ("Bert") Knowles, now residents of Toronto. He is 23 and was born and educated in Aurora and was a member of the Aurora junior hockey club which won the championship in 1938-39. He enlisted with the Irish regiment in 1940, going overseas the following year. Pte. Knowles is with the medical section of the Irish regiment and in July was mentioned in dispatches for his tireless work and ingenuity under fire. His wife and son reside in Toronto. His grandmother, Mrs. Rose Cockerill, and his sister, Miss Esther Knowles, reside in Aurora.

Going overseas in 1941 as a lieutenant in the artillery, Donald D. Carrick, well-known athlete and barrister, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel, according to word received by his family from Italy.

Lieut.-Col. Carrick enlisted with the 11th Battery, 81st Artillery Company, R.C.A., and has been in Italy since last Christmas. He is a partner in the Toronto firm of Slaght, Ferguson and Carrick.

Educated at St. Andrew's College and the University of Toronto, Lieut.-Col. Carrick was one of the finest athletes to graduate from these schools. At one time or other he has held the Canadian amateur golf championship and the amateur boxing championship. A fine hockey and football player, he received several offers to turn professional.

ARTHUR MARTIN DIES SUDDENLY AT UXBRIDGE

The death occurred suddenly at Uxbridge on Thursday, Sept. 7, of Arthur Phillip Martin, proprietor of the Mansion House and one of the best known rural hotelkeepers in Ontario. Mr. Martin, a native of Cornwall, Ont., for some years kept the Queen's hotel in Bradford, and also the Queen's hotel in Aurora. Around 16 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Martin moved to Uxbridge where they have resided since. In middle life, he had not been in good health for the past few years.

Funeral services were held on Monday at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, Uxbridge, of which he was a member. Interment was made at Uxbridge cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, the former Jean Phillips of Bradford and Aurora, and one son, Pte. James Martin, of the postal corps, Ottawa. Miss Beryl Phillips, Aurora, is a sister-in-law.

LIONS HOLD FALL MEETING

munity centre and an asset to the taxpayer, paying its way and providing development and recreation for old and young.

All the above statements are proven statements and are based on years of experience in this line of business.

The culmination of the winter season would be an annual ice follies show with 90 percent town talent. A two-hour show put on for three days under the auspices of a service organization would be definitely a highlight in the town year, both from an entertainment standpoint and a financial standpoint.

We are at a crisis. The man and woman of tomorrow has a hard battle to fight. To win, they must be physically fit, first and foremost—supervised recreation makes physical fitness possible. Public ownership is the greatest asset John Public has today. It means control—public control for public benefit.

It is unthinkable that Newmarket might find itself without a rink and out of step with other towns whose citizens have grasped the opportunity and supplied wholesome recreation and development for citizens. We cannot go into reverse in the new order that will come out of this world war, a new order of security, recreation and health. This will also be our answer as a town to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

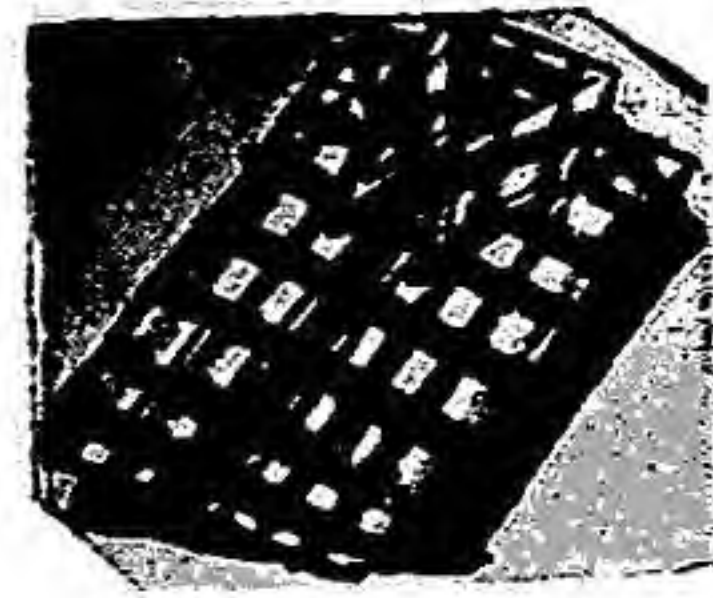

M.O.B. URGES

chemical action, and, this resulting material, when injected into the body, is a preventative against that disease.

Probably the earliest similar preventive medicine had its commencement in Gloucestershire, England, in the 18th century, when smallpox killed off the people by thousands. Farmers' milkmaids noticed after contracting the cowpox rash on their hands from the cows they had milked, that they were immune to smallpox. Next, a farmer inoculated his wife and family with the material taken from cows with cowpox and they broke out in seven days with cowpox. Later the children were inoculated with smallpox seeds, but failed to take the smallpox. From this humble farm experiment smallpox vaccination came into common use all over the world, resulting in the well established immunity to smallpox of all vaccinated persons.

Our present day diphtheria toxoiding works on similar yet very different lines and establishes in toxoided persons an immunity to diphtheria. Even yet there are frequent epidemics of diphtheria, that most dreaded and fatal of all children's diseases, and it is an important part of the health program of every school and every community to see that all children, from six months of age on, are toxoided against diphtheria.

Mrs. Doreen Funnell and Messrs. Raymond and Harold Funnell spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Funnell.

Gar. Walter Airaksinen, Camp Borden, spent the weekend with his father. Mr. Ed. O'Brien, Toronto, spent the weekend at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone and sons spent the weekend at their summer cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Paton, Ever-ton and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Paton and Mrs. Abraham spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woods, Lin-ton.

Mr. and Mrs. George West and daughters motored to Malton on Sunday afternoon.

Messrs. Ward Cook and Jack Ellison have gone to the west to help with the harvest.

The Ladies' Mission Circle met at the home of Mrs. Jenkin's on Thursday afternoon.

RECEIVE MORE DONATIONS
The following donations have been received by the Newmarket Veterans' Comforts fund: Comrade Bert Ward, $1; a friend, $1; W. L. Kidd, $5.

RESUMES STUDIES

Miss Jenne Myers has returned to Toronto to resume her studies at the Toronto Conserva-tory of Music.

GLENVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Tor-onto, called on Mr. and Mrs. James West last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Kirston and Mary had tea on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hod-gins.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wray spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry West.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Webster had tea on Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gould.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Doan were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Woodron, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cald-well and family of Cookstown, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gibson and family of Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Webster spent a few days at their cottage here. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gould and family attended a shower on Sat-urday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Paton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wood.

The harvest home services will be held in Glenville United church on Sept. 24. The services will be at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.

POT POURRI

BY GOLDEN GLOW
Perhaps I should call this my overseas letter instead of Pot Pourri. Suppose we start off this week with another ramble round town. This time I'd like to take you, first of all, to that delightful spot at the north-west corner of the town.

Many of you boys overseas lived in the west end and it is a spot beloved by you one and all. Have you guessed? Well, if not, I'll be more explicit! The little grove that the late Mrs. Aubrey Davis bought directly north-west of their home and kindly threw open to the children of our town. It is a natural little woods and it has al-ways been the endeavor of the family to keep it as natural as possible, while making it not too wild for the feet of little folks.

We took a certain small boy up for his first visit there the other day and did he ever love it? His first taste of being let run loose in the woods—he knows the Lions' park and our gardens, but the woods, you know, is different! Even if he is only a year and a half old he certainly appreciated his visit to that little woods so popu-lar with the children of the west end. It is a wonderful monument to the memory of Mrs. Aubrey Davis for the older children, you boys included since many of you know it well, and the children of today who naturally call it Mrs. Davis' woods.

Grown up folks, too, appreciate the privilege of being allowed ac-cess to it. There are paths here and there and cement benches with comfortable slat seats and back for one to rest and enjoy the quiet of that beautiful corner of town. You seem so far away from everyday life and yet it isn't a block away from Millard Ave. and Arden Ave. It will still be there when you boys come back. You left here, boys, some in your teens, but you will return to us full grown men both in stature and in experience. And may it be soon!

Let us step on the magic car-pet and be carried in a breath or in a twinkling, as children say, to Prospect Ave. north and there you will see the addition to York County hospital well on the way. You know it is between the main building and Dr. Lockhart's home and office on Prospect Ave., sit-uated up on that hill in the best where the children loved to sleigh-ride and ski. Already the brick work is done and the roof on and the carpenters are busy on the interior.

There are flowers everywhere around the town but that pro-longed dry spell played hob with a good many varieties. Last week many people had to have a fire in the furnace it was so cold indoors and now today, Monday, it is bright and warm and a perfect September day! Many maples have already turned crimson and one's thoughts turn to the Gamble woods and the magnificent view from the top of the hill away over the ravine stretching away north to Glenville and beyond to Lake Simcoe.

The squirrels are very busy these days helping themselves to corn and what with starlings early on stripping the green pea patch and now squirrels carrying off the corn, we have to be on the watch constantly. Next year you boys overseas will be back and once more enjoying cornroasts and wolver roasts and marshmallows toasted over a gypsy bonfire—and take my word for it, we will all en-deavor to help you forget the nightmare these past five years have been!

Before I close I want to say for the one who asks about the his-toric old elm tree on Timothy St., near Church St.—yes, it withstood the tornado we had awhile ago and the earthquake last week and if it can weather a wind like that, also an earthquake, we can be sure it is there for years yet. A visitor from Florida to our town met me one day right opposite the tree and she thinks we should have a brass plate in the tree or a memento of some kind to mark its signifi-cance. Well! There's an idea. If it were in U.S.A. they would have done it long ago no doubt. We should really do something about it.

If there is anything else special you want to know about don't hesitate to ask, either in a letter to your folks who will leave a message for me at The Era office, or send it direct to Golden Glow and I'll endeavor to answer. So, for this week—cheerio.

HOPE

Miss Greta Gibson visited Miss Doris Brennan on Sunday.

The community held a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Breen on Tuesday evening in hon-or of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Breen, whose wedding took place on Sat-urday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Slickwood, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Har-old Watts, Hott, visited Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Slickwood, Claremont, on Sunday.

Among the relatives visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Black's during the past week were: Mr. Eugene Barker and Miss Helen Barker, Columbus, Ohio, Mr. Stuart Bark-er, Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Croley, Mark-ham and Mrs. Sweeney, Toronto.

The anniversary services of Hope United church will be held next Sunday, Sept. 17, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Rev. Albert Doggett, Wilfrid, will be the speaker at both services. There will be special music, with a male quartet and Eugene Barker, Columbus, Ohio, soloist, at the evening service.

Sharon and Queensville services will be cancelled for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gibson, Miss Amy Gibson, Mr. J. Gibson and Mr. Thomas Swain attended the fune-ral of Mrs. Gibson's sister, Mrs. Headman, Orangeville, on Monday.

ELMHURST BEACH

Elmhurst Beach, Sept. 7—Miss Dorothy Brown spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. F. Lockerie.
Mr. and Mrs. Balshaw spent the weekend at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. A. Smithers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ney of Toronto visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Sturdy, who have recently received a most interesting box of relics from their son in India. Real Persian lace,
a pottery lamp from Jerusalem,
a German officer's badge and many other articles of interest were included in the box.

Mrs. Sturdy has recently had a letter from her son, Victor, describing life in Italy and places of interest in Rome.

Mrs. Gayler, Vancouver, B.C.,
is visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas.
Hodgins.

The Elmhurst Beach Women's Institute spent a most enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs.
Wilbert Anderson. Roche's Point Institute were guests and provided a wonderful program.
Mrs. Judd Cole took charge of the program. Mrs. Bee gave a lengthy and very amusing recitation. Mrs. Bunn gave a reading on robots. Miss Teenie Young gave a humorous reading and Mrs. E. Thompson also gave a reading. Mrs. Judd Cole sang a humorous song, and also told of the history of the song entitled Come To The Church In The Wildwood. All joined in and sang the song.

Mrs. Bunn conducted a contest which was won by Mrs. Thompson of Roche's Point.

The Elmhurst Beach branch of the W.I. will visit Union Street Institute in October.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Sedore and Mr. and Mrs. Smithers are spending their holidays at Casby Lake.

Mrs. James Clark is home again and her health is much improved.

BETHEL

Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Pritchard have returned from their holidays feeling much refreshed.

Miss Minnie Stephens, Reg.N.,
Rochester, N.Y., spent a few days last week with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs.
L. W. Richardson.

Mrs. Ross O'Brien, Baldwin, has returned home from Orillia hospital where she underwent an operation and is progressing favorably. Calver O'Brien has been transferred from Camp
Borden to Kingston.

On Sept. 22 there will be a bee to clean and decorate the Bethel church. All those who have flowers are asked to come and help to beautify the church for the anniversary. Owing to Ravenshoe's anniversary, Sept.
24, Bethel thought it best to change from an evening service to a 3 p.m. service. This gives Ravenshoe a chance to come and hear Judge Stewart, and the Bethel congregation a chance to attend Ravenshoe's anniversary.
Rev. Finlay hopes the change of time will benefit both congregations.

Dr. H. J. Pritchard preached a very inspiring sermon, Matt.
6:33, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God."

The Era and Express office is open on Saturdays from 8 a.m.
to 1 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.
until the end of October.

CLIFF INSLEY'S

Headquarters for young Canada's clothing in Newmarket

On Monday we welcomed to the centre two new officers, Lieut. Ruth Dane, our new
C.W.A.C. officer, and Capt.
Peeters, who is scheduled to become our new adjutant. Capt.
H. T. Peeters reaches us from overseas where he was engaged in work of an administrative nature. He seems to be a very quiet, reserved man, possessed of tact and diplomacy, two most necessary qualities of an efficient adjutant. Miss Dane was accompanied by Lieut. Bernice Boyd, onetime C.W.A.C. officer
here, who introduced Miss Dane and started her off on the right foot. We hope these two new officers will like Newmarket and that their tour of duty here will be pleasant.

On Tuesday we welcomed as visitors Lieut.-Col. Dover and Lieut. Matilda Jackson. Lieut.-
Col. Dover is on Brigadier Mess's staff at N.D.H.Q. and spoke to our C.W.A.C. girls here on the necessity for influencing their relatives and friends to enlist in the C.W.A.C. She also touched upon a number of other subjects relating to the C.W.A.C.
— subjects which were raised by queries from the girls themselves. In the evening the softball team met No. 2 C.A.C.T.R., Camp Borden, in a hotly contested game which ended in a 5-all tie. After the game the troops enjoyed a new stage show in the drill hall, The High Jinks.

On Wednesday the new district
venereal disease control officer, Capt. G. K. Ingham, visited the camp, spending the day with our genial hospital medical officer, Capt. Jerry Quigley. One of our former medical officers, Major C. J. R. Edwards, popped into the mess in the evening and spent a few hours renewing old friendships and cultivating new acquaintances. The district engineering officer, Capt. Zazucki, was also to be seen about camp inspecting various hutments and facilities of interest peculiar to an engineer. In the evening an astounding softball game took place in camp on the lower diamond. The unit sports officer, Capt. Tommy George, has furnished us with a report of this peculiar game which we shall pass on as submitted.

"For several months the officers of this centre have been over-stressing the ability of their ball team. Tom George, who never misses a trick (that plug will cost you plenty, Tom), nursed his chance until his P.T.
staff was in good condition to challenge the officers. He then promoted a game (for a nominal fee) between the Newmarket
All-Stars and The Mystery Team. The game was advertised throughout the camp and town taking care that no one learned the identities of the members of The Mystery Team. The game was called for 1800 hours—the All-Stars took to the diamond, warmed up, and awaited the arrival of The Mystery Team.
Nothing happened. After what seemed hours, a bugle call suddenly rent the air—The Mystery Team fell in from the drill hall — doubling to the diamond. The team was dressed in great coats, balaclavas and winter meltons,
carried a chesterfield, stretcher,
and a case of refreshments. On reaching its bench, the team removed the greatcoats. Never before had the centre seen such an array of bizarre costumes.
Every fancy dress in the costumer's art was represented from midnight's bathing suit to a fireman's helmet. The Mystery Team immediately warmed-up by vigorously tossing a foot-ball from player to player. The game began, signalling the commencement of a series of practical jokes that rivalled Joe Miller.
The climax was reached, it was felt by everyone present, when the spare ball was thrown into the game to be caught by the professional Capt. Donald J.
Hynes. Of course, everyone had forgotten to tell Donald that the spare ball had just been vanished. In order to finally complete the game, it was necessary for The Mystery Team to lay down a dense smoke screen behind which they all galloped home while 27 officers floundered blindly, bumping into each other, gasping for air, and cursing the day they fell for the smooth promotion of the greatest con-man of them all, that old left-hander, Capt. Tom George."

On Thursday evening the beauty in evidence in camp became positively overpowering.
An entire platoon of pulchritude from Aurora descended upon the centre and took up quarters in the hospital. Everyone was delighted, including Capt. Jerry Quigley, who has been promoted to the rank of officer commanding the C.W.A.C.'s. When interviewed, all Jerry would say for publication was: "I knew it would happen sooner or later.
I've always been irresistible!"
We trust the girls will enjoy their new surroundings and friends.

On Friday Major Middlebro and Capt. Evans paid their regular visit to conduct a standing court martial. Lieuts. Ames, Quintenton and MacClure left camp to return to Borden, leaving behind them strings of broken hearts. Chief Wolf Honey, whose position was precarious indeed during the sojourn of Super Wolf MacClure, breathed a heavy sigh of relief
and took up his neglected activities again with a light heart. In the evening the Flick-

F. P. Galbraith is the newly elected president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.
Mr. Galbraith is the publisher of the Red Deer (Alta.) Advocate.

SHARON

Mrs. Downs and daughter, Ellene, Vineland, spent Labor Day with
Mr. and Mrs. James Parker.

Miss Nora Shaw is spending some time in Hamilton with her sister-in-law who underwent an operation recently.

Eugene Kiteley, who has been spending a few days at home, left on Thursday for Fort William.

Misses Phyllis and Gwen Kiteley and LAC Don Kiteley spent the weekend with their mother.

Ross Fountain and friend spent the weekend at his home here.

Miss Doris Mackie has been spending a week's vacation with her grandfather, Mr. Wilfred Fountain.

Flt.-Lieut. A. C. Thomas is spending a leave with his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Arthur Thomas.

er's soccer team journeyed to Earlscourt Park in Toronto and true to our prediction of last week took up the trail of success by trouncing the Slovaks
by a score of 5-1. Here in camp, softball teams from C and A squadrons enjoyed a friendly game on the lower diamond which resulted in a final win for
C. The score was 11-6. This was C's last game here and it's to be hoped that the team won't be too scattered to prevent it from playing as a unit at advanced.
It had a fine record here, winning, if we're not wrong, every game it played.

On Saturday those in camp with no where to go, although on pass, were again herded together and taken to Lake Simcoe
for swimming and softball.
The Salvation Army camp at the lake has been a marvellous host throughout the summer and has earned the gratitude of many a lonely trooper here at No. 23 by providing personnel with facilities for a good time and genial fellowship over a barren weekend. In the evening, through the thoughtfulness of the commanding officer and with the cooperation of auxiliary services, a movie was presented in the drill hall which was well attended and enthusiastically received.
It's planned to make evening weekend movies a regular feature here in future.

Speaking of records: Lieut.
Osier just walked in and placed some figures on our desk that we don't mind looking at several times. Thanks to the persistent and faithful efforts of L.-Cpl.
Bunn and staff, in August,
8,680 pounds of beans, lettuce,
onions, radishes, Swiss chard, broccoli, cauliflower, corn, beets,
tomatoes, cabbage, marrow, squash and cucumber were served to the boys. No wonder they say Newmarket is the best fed camp in Canada.

Boys Fight Street Battle

For almost two hours boys of the Farm Commando brigade and a gang of Bradford youths fought in the main street of Bradford holding up traffic on Tuesday night.

"The commandos were invited to a dance in the town hall last Friday and the local boys weren't. It is reported the Bradford youths tossed tomatoes at the commandos on their way home," explained Provincial Constable Cecil Deens.

On Tuesday 43 boys between 16 and 18 from the camp marched to the Bradford theatre. When they left a crowd of local youths pelted them with rotten eggs. The commandos fought back. One received medical treatment for a severe gash on the head.

"There has been evidence of resentment between commandos and local boys at our various camps," Alex. MacLaren, farm service force director, said. "This is the first time it has ever resulted in outright hostilities though. It is a very regrettable incident because the boys at the Bradford camp have had an excellent record."

More than 25 of the commandos are leaving today and tomorrow for schools in Toronto, in any case, Mr. MacLaren explained.

Fallen Maples Block Prospect Thoroughfare

Four maples toppled on Prospect Ave. Thursday noon, blocking the street and covering the front of 34 Prospect. No one was hurt although residents in the vicinity said that school children on their way home from school had passed a few moments previous to the trees' fall.

Town workmen are lowering the level of the sidewalk where the trees fell. The workmen were forced to cut away some of the roots of the trees and it is believed this, plus the wind, was responsible for the trees falling.

W.I. HAS 40TH BIRTHDAY

Georgina Council Passes Eildon Hall Sub-Division

The Georgina township council, meeting Sept. 1, passed a resolution which reads as follows: That the reeve and clerk be authorized to sign the proposed plan as per blue-print and letter of Aug. 23, subdividing part of lots 7 and 8, concessions 8 and 9, known as the Eildon Hall property, Georgina township, and in so doing the municipality will not assume any responsibility for the construction or maintenance of roads within said plan, or be responsible or liable for any accident or damages that might occur on said roads.

Also passed was a resolution for the survey of the fifth concession line of the township west from St. George's church. Expenditures on township roads totalling $202.88 were passed and the following accounts ordered paid:

Geo. Foster, police duties, $47.20; A. N. Westgarth, police duties, $18.20; county of York, hospitalization, $7.75; Oscar Wakelin, sheep claim, $50.40.

By-law No. 116 striking the county, township, general and special school, debt, relief, snow removal and local improvement rates for the year 1944 was passed.

The council then adjourned to meet again at Pefferlaw on Oct. 8.

All members of the council were present.

starring then and the Germans knew it.

"They tried the same thing this time and they almost did it. For a time it was nip and tuck. But whoever wins a war must win on land, sea and in the air. The Germans didn't realize it. That is why Hitler never had a ghost of a chance.

"Hitler has lost the sea war, thanks to the British navy who fought his subs and won. He is losing the air war. It is only a matter of days before we obtain absolute mastery of the air over Germany. And the Allies are closing in for the kill on land.

"The battle of the Siegfried Line is just beginning. When the line is broken or outflanked, then the war will be over in a matter of weeks. We're well beyond the line where Germany collapsed last time.

"There are 40 pillboxes every 1,000 yards on the Siegfried Line. They are sunk into the ground and are well camouflaged. The pillboxes measure 45 feet by 25 feet and have steel doors many inches thick. Lines of fire from the pillboxes completely blanket all approaches. Before the pillboxes the ground is sown with land mines and anti-tank obstacles. The line is not a row of such pillboxes but defence in depth.

"However, we crossed the channel, something Napoleon and Hitler refused to attempt. We will also crack the Siegfried Line.

"The Nazis are in for the greatest air attack in history. From bases in France and England we will send thousands upon thousands of bombers over Berlin. We'll occupy Germany and Hitler and his murderous crew will be handed over."

Mr. Cotton was thanked by Lion President Herman Gilroy.
